

My Place in the World

Week of July 16 Stories

This is a way to visualize how you fit into the world around you. Print the templates onto white or colored cardstock (or use them as a pattern to cut out different colors of construction paper). Glue a photo of yourself onto the smallest circle (“This is me!”) or you can draw a picture of yourself. Decide how you want to label the larger circles. For example you might write

Me < My House < My Block < My Town < My State < My Country < My Planet or

Me < My Town < My County < My State < My Country < My Continent < My Planet or

Me < My Family < My Town < My State < My Country < My Hemisphere < My Planet etc.

Punch a hole in the x at the top of each circle and stack them, largest to smallest. Use yarn or a binder ring or a paper fastener to connect all the circles.

Flip up the circles one by one to tell the story of your place in the world!

Cut out the two half-circles
and tape them
together to make one large circle.

x

This is my

x

This is my

